Georgia Frabotta

Georgia is the owner and Executive Director of Angel Villa Sober Living, Angel Treatment & Recovery Communities, and multiple Angel House Sober Living Homes in Southern California. She has been clean and sober since 1993 and is one of the most dedicated ladies in recovery. She is always helping addicts and alcoholics find their way to a safe, sober place using 12 Step Philosophy and every conceivable resource for critically needed services and care. Georgia has sponsored many women in recovery over the years and is committed to building a network of care that is unique, valuable, and accessible to everyone. She is a perfect companion for those in recovery who need extra support in staying clean and sober. Her understanding of addiction, 12 Step Philosophy, the process of recovery, and different tools that help create meaningful change brings added value to the lives of those who need care and comfort in this lifelong journey.
